

LAWTON'S SUCCESS AT SANTA CRUZ

MORE COMPLETE THAN REPORTED YESTERDAY.

Otis Reports That Enemy Left 93 Uniformed Dead on the Field and a Number Seriously Wounded—Captured City Without Destruction of Property.

Washington, April 11.—[Special]—The following cablegrams were received from Gen. Otis this morning: Lawton's success at Santa Cruz more complete than reported yesterday. The enemy left ninety-three uniformed dead on the field and a number seriously wounded. Lawton captured the city without destruction of property. His loss was ten wounded, slightly, except two. Lieut. Elling was the only officer wounded. The enemy retired westward. Lawton was in pursuit early this morning. The insurgents attacked McArthur's line of railway communication last night in considerable force. They were repulsed by Wheaton with heavy loss. Wheaton's casualties were three killed and twenty wounded.

Filipinos Made an Attack Manila, April 11.—[Special]—The Filipinos made an attack in force from the east on the Minnesota volunteers early this morning.

The Minnesota men were spread out along the railroad on both sides of Bocaue. Three of the Minnesotans were killed and ten wounded during the fight that followed.

Wheaton, who was up north toward Malolos was notified of the attack and brought reinforcements to the scene on an armored train. With Wheaton's arrival, the Filipinos were quickly routed. Their loss was over fifty killed.

The Minnesota boys had their hands full before the arrival of reinforcements. A patrolling squadron of volunteers were ambushed along the line of railroad near Malinta during the night. Two Oregon men were killed and three wounded.

Manila, April 12.—Gen. Lawton's first expedition cornered 400 insurgents in Santa Cruz yesterday and took the city, killing 100 of the enemy and taking some prisoners.

Many of the insurgents, when brought to bay, would not surrender. The gunboat Oreste brought back to Manila thirty-four of the wounded insurgents. Our loss was only one man killed and four wounded.

Gen. King has been overcome by the heat and invalided back to the hospital.

Details of the Battle.

Manila, April 12.—Gen. Lawton captured Santa Cruz, at the extreme end of the lake. He drove the rebels, who were commanded by Pas-Wah, a Chinaman, into the mountains.

The plans of the American commanders worked perfectly, with the exception that the progress of the expedition was delayed by the difficult navigation of the river. About 1,500 picked men composed the expedition, which was under the personal command of Gen. Lawton. He and his staff accompanied the troops, sometimes leading charges in Indian fighting tactics, which eventually resulted in the complete rout of the rebels.

The expedition started from San Pedro Macati at dusk Saturday, intending to capture Santa Cruz by assault at daybreak. But in navigating the shallow, tortuous Pasig river, perhaps through the cunning of the native pilots, who were not anxious to see the Americans successful, several boats grounded, and it was nearly dawn when the troops reached the lake.

A number of Americans jumped into the water and, wading for about a hundred yards, crept forward and formed in line, covering the landing of the remainder. The three troops of the Fourth cavalry, unmounted, were sent ashore on a dangerous marshy point, directly south of the city, under fire from the enemy's trenches.

Meanwhile in the town itself there was utter silence and not a sign of life. Gen. Lawton, desiring to make an inspection and to give the inhabitants an opportunity to surrender, went on board the Laguna de Bay and steamed slowly to the dock, the whole fleet watching anxiously. When it was discovered by the glasses that the trenches and stone buildings were swarming with white-clad soldiers the two boats withdrew, receiving volleys from the trenches thrown up on the marshy plain north of the city.

The flotilla anchored in compact formation for the night, ready to resist any surprises from the rebel gunboats supposed to be in the lake. At sunrise the assault commenced. The American line south of the city extended two miles inland and, with its left sweeping the shore, it moved north, while the Fourth cavalry men on the point advanced toward the city, pouring volleys upon the trenches. Simultaneously the gunboats hovered along the shore, shelling the woods ahead of the troops and driving the Filipinos inland. The gatlings cleared several trenches.

The whole brigade was divided into squads of twelve, and the fighting was carried on in the old-time frontier fashion, from behind trees, crawling through bushes or rushing across the open.

Gen. Lawton, with the Fourteenth infantry battalions, approached a narrow iron bridge across a creek on the south border of the town. Here a company of Filipinos was entrenched across the stream and behind a stone barricade at the entrance to the bridge. The Americans rushed forward in single file in the face of a galling fire, demolished the barricade with their hands and drove the enemy from the trenches, killing a dozen.

The Filipino soldiers in the town, secreted in various buildings and firing from the windows, gave the invaders an interesting hour. There was a regular nest of rebels in the stone jail, which is edged in by a wall. The Americans, single or in pairs, entered the houses, and many warriors were taken prisoners.

A considerable body of Filipinos fled northward, crossing the open marshes, but the gatlings poured upon them a deadly hail, until they disappeared in the woods, slaying dozens. Major Weisenberger deployed the sharpshooters along the shore, and they crept steadily forward, aiding the gatlings. Finally a large body was sent against the enemy in the woods, driving them toward the mountains.

Gen. Lawton established headquarters in the elegant palace of the governor, and a guard was immediately placed in the church, as the sacred edifices are always the first objective point of looters. Within an hour the town was patrolled and all looting rigidly prevented. Almost all the inhabitants had fled during the two preceding nights, and only a few Chinese shopkeepers have emerged from hiding and resumed business.

QUIET REIGNS AT PANA, ILL., TODAY

STORES RE-OPENED BUT LITTLE BUSINESS TRANSACTED

Men Standing on Street Corners Discussing Yesterday's Tragedy—Coroner Received Word That More Bodies Would be Found on Outskirts of City.

Pana, Ill., April 11.—[Special]—All quiet here this morning. Stores were re-opened, but little business was transacted. Small knots of men are standing on the street corners discussing yesterday's tragedy.

No further trouble is anticipated while the soldiers are here. Many negroes are on the streets.

Carry Felix, the hotel waitress who was shot in the back while standing in the hotel kitchen is in a critical condition this morning and will probably die.

The coroner said this morning that he had received word that more dead bodies would be found on the outskirts of the city.

Militia to Remain at Pana.

Springfield, April 11.—[Special]—Adjutant-General Reece returned from Pana this morning. He reports everything quiet there, because of the presence of the military force. Sheriff Downey and a party called on the governor this morning in reference to the riots and were informed that the militia would remain on duty until he was satisfied that peace was restored.

Downey says that riot was provoked by the operators attempting to prevent negro miners from leaving their employ.

The President's Western Trip.

Washington, April 11.—Senator Carter of Montana, accompanied by Maj. Alderson of that state, called on the president Monday with a view to learning when he will start on his western trip. President McKinley said he would like to leave here about July 15. This trip will be the most extensive one ever undertaken by the president, and it will cover practically all the country west of the Mississippi river. The president will probably be gone a month.

Carlists Preparing to Rise.

London, April 11.—The Pall Mall Gazette, in an editorial article, maintains that a Carlist war is inevitable and declares that a rising is likely at any moment. French bankers, the Gazette says, are arranging to supply the Carlists with more money, and already large supplies of arms and munitions have been sent into Spain.

Ninety-One Men Indicted.

Greenfield, Ind., April 11.—The grand jury, after nearly two months' investigation, has made its report and has returned ninety-one indictments against former county officers and one of the present county officers. The indictments are for alleged bribery, violations of the fee and salary laws, etc.

Fire Raging in Proctor Knott.

Duluth, Minn., April 11.—A disastrous fire is raging in the village of Proctor Knott, seven miles from here. Four buildings, including the Hotel Proctor Knott, are known to have been destroyed. All telegraph and telephone communication has been cut off and no details are known.

FINAL ADJOURNMENT FRIDAY, APRIL 21

SENATE THIS MORNING PASSED JOINT RESOLUTION.

Bill Abolishing Office of State Treasury Agent Killed—Assembly Passes Bill to Reorganize State National Guard—Assembly Passes Bill Appropriating $186,000 to University.

Madison, April 11.—[Special]—The senate this morning passed a joint resolution fixing the date for final adjournment for Friday, April 21.

A bill passed providing for adjustment of the claims of R. S. Houston of Kenosha county, for a herd of cattle killed by the state veterinarian three or four years ago.

The bill abolishing the office of state treasury agent was killed without discussion.

The assembly passed Laing's bill relieving cities of the third and fourth class from the operation of the caucus law and also the senate bill to reorganize the state national guard.

The assembly passed the bill appropriating $186,000 to the university of which $35,000 is to be used for an electric light plant for the capitol, university and the new historical building.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED OUT

Prairie Fire in Bunker Hill District This Afternoon.

An alarm of fire was turned in from the Bunker Hill district, near the intersection of Glen and Hickory streets at 12:30 this afternoon.

The nature of the fire was burning grass in that locality, which is said to have been set on fire by mischievous children; and their youthful amusement came near resulting in great loss of property, for a heavy wind was blowing and driving the fire within a few feet of a group of buildings.

A broom brigade did good work in checking the flames without loss.

Officials Graciously Elated.

Washington, April 11.—War officials were greatly elated by the news of the capture of Santa Cruz. They intimate that this is the beginning of a movement only second in importance to the operations north of Manila, and Gen. Lawton's easy victory encourages them to hope his campaign will be carried to a successful issue without great loss of men or time. The war department received a dispatch from Gen. Otis during the night telling of Lawton's whereabouts. The following extract was made public.

"Lawton now opposite Laguna de Bay with 1,500 men. Condition of troops excellent. Sickness light."

Gen. Otis followed this with another dispatch, telling in terse terms of the capture of the chief native town on the big lake southeast of Manila.

Says Filipinos Are Discouraged.

Madrid, April 11.—Senor de Avarro, Spanish consul at Hongkong, cables the foreign office that the Filipinos are discouraged by the successive checks sustained at the hands of the American army. The Hongkong junta seems to have lost confidence in Aguinaldo's ability to save the situation, while the peaceable residents of the archipelago believe that the insurgents will be forced to submit to American sovereignty.

Natives Die Rifle in Hand.

Manila, April 11.—In the fighting at Santa Cruz the Fourteenth regiment of United States infantry caught the fleeing native garrison of the city in a "cul de sac," from which there was no escape. Hoping that the rebels would surrender, the American troops held their fire, but the hope was vain, the rebels doggedly refused to throw down their arms and died rifles in hand.

Looked His Character.

"Say, that was a mighty honest-looking old farmer," said the office loafer, as the client went out. "Just the kind of a good, whole-souled face to invite confidence." "Just what he has been doing," the lawyer explained. "He is in to see about a little gold-brick transaction he was drawn into."—Indianapolis Journal.

THE COUNTRY HOME IDLE HOUR BURNS

PROPERTY OF W. K. VANDERBILT BILT AT OAKDALE, L. I.

W. K. Vanderbilt and Bride Occupying House at the Time—Fire Believed to Have Originated in the Cellar—Probably Accidental—No Lives Were Lost and None Injured.

New York, April 11.—[Special]—W. K. Vanderbilt's country home, Idle Hour, at Oakdale, L. I., was destroyed by fire at four o'clock this morning. No lives were lost and no one injured.

W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and bride, formerly Miss Virginia Fair, were occupying the house at the time. The fire is believed to have originated in the cellar, and was probably accidental.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt, there were fifteen servants in the house. Later developments tend to show that the fire was of incendiary origin. The total loss was three hundred thousand dollars.

A SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

By Scholars of Plymouth School Next Saturday Evening.

A school entertainment given by the scholars of the Plymouth School District No. 4, will be held at the Plymouth Methodist church, Saturday evening, April 15.

They will be assisted by Leaver's orchestra of six pieces, readers, Neva Helmbolt and Merwin Beck, of Orford, George Hemmingway, of Hanover, Mr. Day, of Beloit, besides other local talent.

One interesting number on the program will be a tableau, entitled "Washington's Vision," in which seventeen will appear on the stage at one time. Admission ten cents. Cora D. M. Smiley, teacher.

Y. M. C. A. BAND BANQUET

Musical and Literary Program Rendered Last Evening.

The second of a series of banquets given by the Y. M. C. A. band took place last evening. After the spread a musical and literary program was rendered, F. F. Lewis acting as toastmaster.

Oscar W. Bucklin presented a paper on "Rehearsals." A bass quartette, composed of L. A. Williams, Oscar W. Butkin, Andrew Clark and George William was well received. Walter Clark gave an interesting reading on "Gilmore's Famous Band." Impromptu speeches were made by Harry Bronson and William A. Rothel under the head of "Good of the Order." A trio for reeds by F. F. Lewis, Harry Bronson and Glen Coleman was well received.

IS OFFICIALLY CLOSED

Peace Treaty Signed at 3:28 This Afternoon—War With Spain At An End.

Washington, April 11.—[Special]—The peace treaty was signed at 3:28 this afternoon by Secretary Hay for the United States, and Ambassador Cambon, of France, for Spain. This officially closed the war with Spain.

Washington, April 11.—The Spanish-American war formally ended today at 2 o'clock. M. Thiebaut, first secretary of the French embassy, called at the state department Monday and notified Secretary Hay that the embassy had received the Spanish copy of the treaty of peace. The ceremonies of the formal exchange of ratifications will take place at the white house today.

When Adjt.-Gen. Corbin was notified that the ratifications would be exchanged he telegraphed a statement to that effect to Gen. Otis. A month ago Gen. Otis was informed that he had full authority to muster out any volunteer regiments or to discharge any volunteers without reference to the war department. He will now notify the volunteers serving in the Philippines that they are entitled to discharge on account of the ending of the war.

It is not likely that any volunteer regiments will take advantage of their right to leave the service. In a recent telegram Gen. Otis said that all the volunteers wanted to remain until the fighting was over. The army reorganization act provided that the volunteers serving in the Philippines might be continued in service for another six months. Gen. Otis will take advantage of this provision.

At the white house the French ambassador, M. Cambon, acting as Spain's plenipotentiary, will hand to Secretary Hay, representing the United States, the Spanish copy of the treaty, and at the same time Mr. Hay will hand M. Cambon the American copy. The Spanish copy is signed by the queen regent and is duly attested.

The American copy bears the great seal of the United States, and is signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of state. Just before the exchange the protocol of exchange will be signed by M. Cambon for Spain and Mr. Hay for the United States. Then the president will proclaim the treaty and declare the war at an end.

CHARLES RANDALL is in Chicago called there by the dangerous illness of his brother, Frank Randall, who is ill with pneumonia.

WOODMEN TO VISIT MONROE

Will Leave in Special Train Tomorrow Night—Other Notes.

Florence Camp, 386, M. W. A., of this city has accepted the invitation of J. S. Andrews Camp, No. 410, of Monroe, to work up some rough timber into good woodmen. A special train has been chartered and will leave Janesville tomorrow evening at 7 p. m., returning at the convenience of the woodmen. It is expected that not less than fifty will go including the uniformed drill team and goat.

The Southern Wisconsin Woodmen's annual picnic will be held in Beloit, Thursday, June 1. It is expected to be a grand affair. At the regular meeting of Florence Camp, of this city, last night, a strong committee was appointed to make necessary arrangements for attending. The members will probably hire a band and go in a body.

The Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbors are making arrangements for an entertainment to be followed by a dance to be held in the West Side Odd Fellows' hall April 19.

There will be a special meeting of Western Star Lodge No. 14, F. and A. M. at their hall this evening. Work in the first degree is expected.

PATENT MEDICINE LAW SUIT

Was Called This Morning in the Municipal Court.

In the municipal court this morning judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $114 and costs in the action of Wilson Bros. vs. George H. Green. The defendant was at one time a peddler of patent medicines in Rock county, and while in business purchased goods of the wholesale drug firm of Wilson Bros., now of Edgerton. Mr. Green failed to settle, and the defendants sued.

Two Bandits Secure $50,000.

El Paso, Tex., April 11.—One of the boldest hold-ups ever committed in this section occurred Monday afternoon at the office of the Alamo Cord Lumber company at Alamo Gordo, N. M., seventy miles north of El Paso. The door was thrown open by two cowboys armed with rifles. They walked up to Cashier Davidson's desk, demanded all the money in his possession, and, at the point of Winchester, he was compelled to open the safe. It contained a bundle of scrip amounting to $50,000, which was stacked in packages and resembled greenbacks. The robbers took this and departed.

A Professional Opinion.

"That young Pellet has altogether too exalted an opinion of his profession. When old Boyax was out of town the Gridleys called Pellet. Jane Gridley asked him if he thought he could pull her father through. 'I trust, madam,' he severely replied, 'to be able to parry the shafts of death.' 'Parry the shafts of death! Say, that's good. Why, Pellet couldn't paregoric.'—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Millions Lying Uncollected.

A nice little sum of nearly three million pounds sterling, belonging to the Pope lies unclaimed in the Italian treasury. When the Italian government took possession of Rome an annual civil list of some £13,000 was assigned to the Pope as compensation for the loss of the temporal power. But neither Pius IX. nor Leo XIII., would touch the money, lest they should acknowledge the usurping power, and so the income has been accumulating ever since.

Selling Shoes in Scotland.

A letter in the New York Times, relating to some of the odd happenings of travel, contains the following example of 'sly Scottish humor': If it becomes necessary for a man journeying through Scotland to purchase a pair of boots he will find that he has a day's work before him. Not only does he have to pay for the shoes, but he has to try them on, lace or button them up, take them off, try on another pair, and so through all the work himself, while the clerk stands by and looks on. Purchasing a pair of shoes in such a city as Glasgow, the customer has to sit in an ordinary chair, with a high, stiff back. There is no rest for the foot, nothing whatsoever in the way of accommodation. One day an American traveler had bought a pair of shoes in Glasgow. As he was leaving the store he said to the clerk: "Have you ever heard of the way we buy shoes in America? Well, there is a rest placed on the floor in front of the customer, and on this rest the customer places his foot. Just back of this rest is a seat on which the clerk sits and fits the customer." The clerk listened respectfully; then he leaned forward and whispered in the American's ear: "That may do very well for America, sir; but here our employers do not like to see us sitting down when we work!"

The Bower Bird.

The "Bower Bird" is the name given to certain Australian members of the starling family, and is derived from the "bowers" on "runs" which they construct and adorn with gay feathers, rags, bones, shells, and other white or bright colored objects. The Satin Bower bird frequents the forests of New South Wales; its bower is placed under the sheltering branches of a large tree, and consists of a platform of twigs interwoven, upon which the true bower is raised of finer and more flexible twigs, curved over and nearly meeting at the top, the bowers of the spotted variety, which is found in the exterior of Australia, are much larger than those just described, and are often three feet in length. Mr. Gould says that scarcely anything comes amiss to these birds in the embellishment of their bowers and the natives know their bower fallings so well that on losing any small article, they seek it at the nearest bower.

The Vendetta in Corsica.

La Vendetta (vengeance) is the term used to denote the practice, as it prevails in Corsica, of individuals taking private vengeance on those who have shed the blood of their relations. In Corsica, when a murder has been committed, the relatives of the murdered man take up their arms and hasten to pursue, and if they capture, slay the murderer. Persons suffering the vendetta have been known to live in their houses without leaving them for ten or fifteen years, and being, after all, shot the first time they ventured out of doors. The practice exists also in Sicily, Sardinia, and Calabria, and among the semi-savage tribes of Asia.

DEATH OF CLINTON EARLY SETTLER

MRS. CAROLINE CONLEY PASSES
INTO THE SHADOWS.

Died at Her Home Thursday, April 6,
From Grip and Its Complications—
Result of Clinton Election Gives General Satisfaction—Pleasant Party at Geo. Babcock's.

Clinton, April 11—It is with feelings of grave respect and sorrow that we chronicle the death of an early settler, Mrs. Caroline Conley, wife of Hon. John Conley, who died at her home in this village on Thursday, April 6th, 1899. Mrs. Conley has been in poor health, caused by the grip and its complications, the greater part of the winter, and her death though rather sudden, was not unexpected. Deceased was born in Vermont, sixty-seven years ago, was married to John Conley in 1853, coming west the following season and settling on a farm near Clinton, which place was their home until nine years ago, when they moved to this place. Besides the husband left to mourn, are one son and two daughters, Supervisor H. W. Conley and Miss Kate Conley of this place, and Mrs. Ranny Spaulding of Summerville. The funeral occurred Saturday at the house, Rev. W. P. Leek officiating. Now that the election is over, political equilibrium is once more restored. The result seems to give general satisfaction. With a mixture of both tickets, a good combination has been obtained. A number have been heard to say, "The election went just as I wanted it to go." Of course there are some very disappointed men, especially where the vote was close. There are others who are equally jubilant. Two tickets at the polls makes excitement. That is what most politicians want. Unmistakable evidences of spring are at hand. The robin is here. Although the frost is not all out, the farmers are hoping for a few warm days, when it is believed they will be able to get out on the land. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gates left on Monday of this week for Denver, where they expect to remain for some little time. J. R. Helmer returned Saturday from a business trip to Chicago. Stephen Conley was up from Chicago to attend the funeral. Dr. and Mrs. Collier will entertain friends on Thursday evening of this week. Mrs. Susie Watts injured one of her fingers quite badly last week, in a clothes wringer. There was a very pleasant party at George Babcock's, last week. Over twenty were present, and the supper was excellent. Miss Ada Smith also entertained a company of friends last Thursday evening. The editor of the Herald's prophetic announcement in last Tuesday's paper that the candidate for supervisor (himself) on the temperance ticket was not a strong one, met with a remarkable fulfillment at the polls. Mrs. S. G. Lake has been suffering the past week with a very severe cold. Fifteen were present at C. G. Hamilton's last Tuesday evening and aside from enjoying a very elaborate supper, were highly entertained by Otis Noble with his graphophone. Mrs. Emma Johnson and Mrs. George Fader were up from Chicago last week. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler were here recently. Miss Ida Wyman was here last Thursday. Alvah Woolston, recently of the dental college in Chicago, is spending a little time at home. Report has it that he will locate and practice in Clinton. George Bertelsen, now occupies the Winchester farm north of here. Miss Gladys Leunel is staying for a time at grandpa and grandma's. Charles Babcock is now a resident of Darien, having purchased an interest in a meat market there. The town of Bradford at its annual meeting voted $1200 to build a new church at Carvers. The old church at Bradford Center was purchased for $400, and will be used as a town hall. Seigle Conley, of Kenosha, has been here for a few days. J. H. Bush was up from Beloit Monday.

LATE HAPPENINGS AT MAGNOLIA.

Little Jessie Grunsee Passes Away After a Week's Illness.

Magnolia, April 11—On April 4th Little Jessie, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Grunsee, passed away, being sick only one week, with tonsillitis, which went to her brain, causing congestion. The funeral was held at the house on the 7th inst., conducted by the Rev. Christian, of Footville. The remains were interred in the West Magnolia cemetery. Mrs. Frank Chase received a dispatch Friday from her brother, Wm. Weaver, of Fenimore, announcing the death of their youngest child, Ethel. She left Saturday to attend the funeral, which was announced for Sunday. Wm. Acheson has taken the farm of John Horan to work the coming year. Mr. Horan will sell machinery. Mattice & McCoy have lumber on the ground for a large machinery shed and there is some talk of a hall above. Henry Johannas will do the carpentering. Mrs. Warren Haskins has postponed her visit to Chicago. Mattice & McCoy have bought a fine span of cream colored ponies, well matched and very nice drivers of Col. G. W. Hall, of Evansville. We still have one case of scarlet fever in our town and now the measles have started in, there being four or five cases and we expect more every day. Both Chase, Leslie McCoy, Zita Acheson and Lottie McCoy are sick with the measles. One of the children of Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers is sick with scarlet fever. School in District No. 3 was resumed last Monday after one week's vacation. Mr. Frazee has returned to his home here after a two months' visit with his daughter in Michigan. Alice Clifford again resumed her duties as teacher in Center last Monday. Mrs. George Lettis who has been quite sick is improving. The next meeting of the Mite society will be held with Mrs. Fred Wood. Mrs. Jessie Gillman and Cleve spent several days of last week with Mrs. Gillman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Howard.

DELIGHTED FOOTVILLE AUDIENCE

Miss Comstock of Milwaukee Spoke
Sunday at M. E. Church

Footville, April 11—Miss Comstock, superintendent of the Milwaukee Deaconess home, delighted the large audience at the M. E. church Sunday morning by her talk on the work of the Deaconesses among the poor and unfortunate in our large cities. A grand and noble work it is and well worthy of our support. Rev. George W. Verity will give a free lecture at the Methodist church Saturday evening of this week. Everyone is cordially invited to come. Mr. Verity is from Tsun Hun, North China, having spent several years in the missionary field there. He is about forty years of age and comes highly recommended. His subject is on China, the great wall, China's saviour, people, dress and customs, the reforms. He will have some idols with him which are worshiped there. Mrs. T. Ogden and sister, Elizabeth, went to Evansville Monday. Extensive improvements are being made at the creamery. A. J. Roach, of the firm of Roach & Seebor Co., has been in town overseeing the work, and left for his home in Waterloo Monday noon. Earnest Parmley has again resumed work at the creamery. Measles still prevail and prevent school this week. New cases of measles are reported in the following families: M. Kennedy, J. P. Davis, I. H. Fisher, Mrs. Schroder, John Torpy, R. C. Evans and G. D. Sivertorn. R. W. Strang, who has had measles, is reported on the gain. Rev. F. W. Mutchler has also been quite sick with measles, is reported better. Mrs. Earnest Parmley, who has been sick nearly all winter, is reported rapidly improving. S. F. Wallihan and wife and Elizabeth Ogden, contemplate going to Longmont, Cal., this week. Those who attended the M. E. church Sunday evening, heard a splendid sermon from Presiding Elder F. A. Pease, of Janesville. Free lecture at the M. E. church Saturday evening, April 15.

PECULIAR RICHMOND ACCIDENT

A Cat's Bite Causes Julia Owen Much
Suffering—Friends Alarmed

Richmond, April 10—A very peculiar accident is reported to have happened to Miss Julia Owen. As she was approaching the door with the family cat in her arm, the dog happened to be there and the cat became frightened and bit Miss Owen on the hand. But very little was thought of the wound at the time, but now it is of a serious character, as Miss Owen acts very strange at times. Her intimate friends have cause to feel alarmed. A very sad misfortune has happened to a man, named Mr. Pickeral, who is in the employ of Thomas James, near Delavan. While shredding corn he had his hand torn off in the rollers. A shield of some kind would be a very important part of a corn shredder and prevent many accidents. Dell Newbury has presented his sister, Mr. G. F. Parrish, with a twenty acre wood lot, as a share of the estate owned by the late Augusta Newbury, for services while Mrs. Newbury was an invalid for twelve years. The man that has young stock to sell nowadays may consider himself fortunate, as $20 is being readily offered for one year old heifers. Calf buyers are something of the past in this section of the country. Mr. Delaney's carload of steers averaged him nearly $100 a head. The price received in Chicago was $5.65 per hundred for two year old steers. Which pays the best, Mr. Farmer, steers or milking cows? Mr. Willie Kilbans was called to Elkhorn by the illness of his son Roy, with pneumonia. Mr. Chas. Knihans of Sharon, was at this place Tuesday, looking for a man. He hired Bob Daly. The spring term of school commences April 17th, with Miss Pratt as teacher, in the Scrabble district. All the sick folks are improving very rapidly. John Delaney will give a free dance as a consequence of him being elected chairman of the town of Richmond. All are invited to attend. Announcement of same will be made in a short time. Harry Osborne shot two fine wild geese last week.

GRANGE MEETING AT LA PRAIRIE

Subject of "Summer Pasture" Discussed —Election of Officers.

La Prairie, April 11—The subject of "Summer Pasture" was discussed at the grange meeting last Saturday evening. It seems to be a matter of considerable interest to farmers at present. At the election of officers of the La Prairie Creamery company, the following were chosen: President, James Scott; vice president, J. E. Gleason; secretary, S. H. Joiner; treasurer, George Turk; business manager, J. E. Gleason. The creamery is and always has been, in a flourishing condition. It can also boast of Mr. Marsh as a first class buttermaker. Bert Van Gelder will return to the home of his boyhood as soon as he is able to endure the journey. Levi Case was caring for O. Chadsey's oil wagon last week. Idella Waite opened her first term of school in the Haggart district last week. A number of La Prairie ladies joined the Royal Neighbors at Shopiere, last meeting. Henry Waite and family of Milwaukee, will spend the summer with friends in this vicinity. John Little is having rather a serious battle with the measles. Mrs. William Scott has added a fine veranda to the south side of her handsome residence. A distemper is appearing among some of the farmers' horses. Miss Thyra Brown is on the sick list. Mrs. Archie Scott, of Iowa, is visiting relatives in this vicinity. Election passed off very calmly and satisfactorily. A very pleasant surprise party occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Henry Oase is on the sick list. Mr. Felix put up a new windmill last Monday. J. P. Thomas has a fine new shepherd dog which he will train to follow in "Captain's" footsteps as he was an extra fine dog. William Brown has rented the Sherman land joining J. P. Thomas. Bert Radle who went to Denver for his health a short time ago has gained twenty pounds. He seems to enjoy the far west. Dr. Brown is attending Mr. Henry's sick horse. Christie Scott is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. Barlass.

DEATHS AT MILTON JUNCTION

Two Sad Deaths—Mr. and Mrs. U. G.
Miller Entertain Friends

Milton Junction, April 11—Mrs. Frances Tilton Merrifield, wife of Aurelius Merrifield, died suddenly at her home near Clear Lake, on Monday. No one but the children were present at the time of her death, her husband having gone to a neighbor's a few minutes before. Mrs. Phoebe W. Buten died at an advanced age at her home in this village on Saturday. The funeral was held at the house on Monday afternoon, the Rev. George W. Burdick officiating. Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Miller entertained about sixty of their neighbors and friends on Wednesday of last week, at their pleasant home near the river. It is needless to say that all present had a most enjoyable time. Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Green, of Madison, and Editor and Mrs. F. W. Coon, of Edgerton, were among the relatives attending the funeral of Mrs. Phoebe W. Buten on Monday. John Livingston, of Cresco, Iowa, was the guest of his brother, W. D. Livingston, the first of this week. G. K. Nelson is receiving an engine, boiler and other new machinery for the Riverside creamery which is to be much improved. Albert S. Bullis went to Madison Monday to serve as a grand juror in the United States district court. Wesley Winch went to Marshfield, this state, Monday, on real estate business, accompanied by J. E. Patterson, who thinks of locating in that part of the state. Calvin Hull and M. H. Ainsley went to Lake Koshkonong on Saturday and returned Sunday afternoon with 300 pounds of fish, one of the number weighing thirteen pounds. Mrs. E. D. Butts of Delavan, was an over Sunday visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Thorpe. There are 1000 ducks and 1000 hunters at Lake Koshkonong. L. R. Davis has resigned his position with the Hull Manufacturing company. Ed. Sowle of Janesville, is his successor. The business will go to Janesville the first of next month. Mrs. G. W. Hoffman and daughter Helen returned Monday, from a visit of several days with relatives at Fort Atkinson.

PLEASANT SHOPPIERE SURPRISE

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Wright Entertain Friends.

Shopiere, April 11—Some of our young folks gave Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard a genuine surprise on Friday evening. They all went home feeling that they had been well entertained. Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Wright gave a card party on Thursday evening to about thirty of their friends. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all present. Every one that attends the social at the chapel on next Friday evening will be served with maple syrup and fritters. Some of our young men have gone to Racine to work this spring. Our people are looking for a wedding that is soon to come off if reports are true. The fine weather on Sunday brought out an unusually large number to church. Joe Weirick has again moved his family to Beloit. Rev. Frank Richardson entertained his father and mother for a few days. Mr. Richardson has been riding in a new surrey lately.

PLEASANT SHOPPIERE CARD PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Keen Wright Pleasantly
Entertain Friends

Shopiere, April 11—Mr. and Mrs. Keen Wright gave a card party on Thursday evening to a number of their friends and relatives. After the games, those present sat down to a bountiful supper. All enjoyed the occasion very much. The farmers claim that the clover is all winter killed, which will make more work for a late spring, also leave a great many without pasture and hay. The winter rye is all right. Bert Stewart came home from Milwaukee where she has been attending school. George Culver came from Rockford Sunday to spend a few days in this place. Dewitt Parker was home a short time on Sunday. Joseph Weirick has moved to Beloit again. Fred Rice bought the first bicycle that has been purchased this spring. Fred Ledka has all kinds of farming tools to sell at the lowest prices. Rev. Richardson's father and mother spent a few days in this place.

Rock River.

Rock River, April 11—Mamie and Walter Rogers, of Whitewater, who have been visiting at their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Rose, returned home Monday. Dell Mills, of Lima, visited River friends Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Green spent Tuesday in Edgerton. Mrs. Amos Camp and son, Raymond, of Kerville, Cal., arrived at this place Tuesday, after nearly two years absence, and is visiting her brother, J. J. Corliss. George Button and family have moved to Milton Junction and Frank Langworthy has taken possession of his new farm. George Richel is working for Joseph Fassett. E. B. Saunders and daughter, Mildred, attended church here last Sabbath. Joseph Fassett does not improve as fast as his friends would wish. Miss Edna Richmond, of Lima, visited Kittle Vincent Friday and Saturday. The owner of the Nye farm near Clear Lake, is repairing his house. Mrs. Marie Gowen, of North Loup, Neb., is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Almira Vincent. Elder Whitford will be present at the communion service next Sabbath. Mr. Scowell, of Milton College, attended church at this place. Lottie Gray began school at Milton College last week. Mr. and Mrs. Waulle and daughters, of Milton Junction, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Vincent. School will begin the first Monday in May. Harley Merrifield began working for Thos. Driver, Monday.

Koshkonong

Koshkonong, April 11—Miss Thompson, of Milton Junction, was a visitor at Mary Livingston's school Friday. Robert Miller, of Koshkonong, our real estate king, is very busy these days. Barney Moran, of Fort Atkinson, and G. Wilson were on our streets one day this week buying large draft horses. Jack Masterson has purchased of Babcock & Son, an ideal windmill and tank, which he will have erected soon. G. D. Mansfield, of Edgerton, is to meet the farmers of Otter Creek, and persuade them, if possible, to take their milk to his factory at Milton, to be made into butter. Miss Minnie Edwards of Milton, visited her grandparents, Friday and Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ostrander celebrated their wedding anniversary last Saturday evening at the home of Adam Plumb. Mr. and Mrs. Heritage and family, of Milton, called on Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Clarke, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Austin, of Janesville, called on Mr. and Mrs. Scott Robinson, last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lyon and daughter Eva, called on Mr. and Mrs. Mort Stone.

Emerald Grove.

Emerald Grove, April 11—Miss Nettie Boynton commenced her spring term of school in the village on Monday. Miss Hattie Speer, who has spent the winter in Chester, Iowa, returned last week and will teach the spring term in the Little District. Mrs. Jerome Boynton has been on the sick list. Nettie Inman commenced her school in the McCarthy District last Monday. Mrs. Jas. Scott spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Hanks, last week. D. M. Barlass left for Chicago last Thursday. A number of our young men have joined the Woodmen lately. That's right boys. Mr. and Mrs. Dane Davis Sunday with their parents. Otto Johnson is the proud possessor of a $45 gramophone and entertains nearly every evening.

The importance of taking a good Spring Medicine is well known. In fact, its necessity is universally admitted. To argue this point is useless — takes up your time and wastes our space. The real question is, what to take? Of course, you want the best. For your blood you want a medicine which cures blood diseases. For your appetite, stomach, ach, weakness, and dyspepsia, you want a medicine containing, appetite-giving, stomach-toning, dyspepsia-curing qualities. For that tired feeling, dull headache, miserable, all run down condition, you want a true tonic to bone sinew, nerve and muscle — not a stimulant. Now we can prove, we have proved, we DO prove each and every day in the year, that Hood's Sarsaparilla IS the best; that it is unequalled as a general Spring Medicine; that it meets every requirement above named and more. We prove this by thousands of testimonials — not from people anxious to advertise themselves, but from people in the same walk of life as you. And our testimonials tell of cures, real, bona fide CURES. We believe when you have given it a fair trial you will agree that America's Greatest Medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

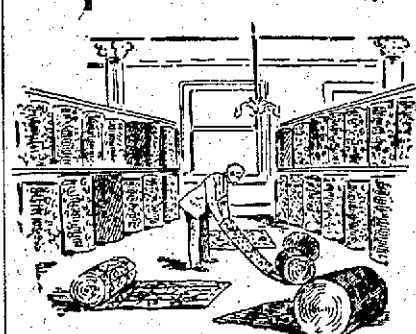

Let Us Overhaul Your Bath Room.

A great many bath tubs in this city were put in years ago. Likewise water closets. They are foul, ill-smelling and unwholesome and a menace to health. Bath tubs were boxed in and pipes out of sight, often leaking gas and accumulating dirt. You should throw these out and put in a bright porcelain tub and syphon water closet with exposed nickel water pipes. You will take more comfort than you can imagine. The price for this kind of this kind of work has got down to reasonable figures now. If you think of doing anything to your bath room. We will be glad to give you an estimate of the cost and other information and help which our experience would suggest.

ONE KEEP THE QUALITY UP TO IMMENSE... IS THE WORD.

Our stock of...
Carpets is immense...

Spring carpet selling has started in with a rush. We have been receiving new carpets for weeks past and our stock is in good shape.

Ingrains, Body Brussels, Velvets, Moquettes, Axminster, Tapestry Brussels, Cotton Chains, Mattings, Linoleum, &c.

A large assortment of choice patterns, at prices as low as good carpets and other floor coverings can be sold at.

At 40c we offer a heavy cotton three-ply carpet, the best value obtainable. Choice styles. It's our Onyx Brand.

Stylish Mackintoshes..

Just because a mackintosh is intended for rainy-day wear is no reason why it should be a hideously ugly, ill-fitting garment. We devote a great deal of time to selecting our mackintosh stock. There are pretty, stylish mackintoshes just as there are ugly ones. We taboo the latter. We show mackintoshes with the skirt separate from the cape, at $4.50 and $7.00.

Ladies' Mackintoshes, excellent grades at $3.50, $5, $6, &c. Misses' at $3 and $4—good ones.

Women's Gloves...

This glove business grown. But when the comprehensiveness of the assortment, the uniformity of qualities, and the substantial savings are considered—it could hardly do anything else. The Spring lines comprise every wantable kind of glove.

Wash Chamis in white, slate and natural; beautiful soft skins, guaranteed to wash; at 85c.

Mochas, lovely quality, all colors,—neat embroidery, $1.00.

Our Newport is a 2-clasp, heavy glaze glove, extra heavy, prix seam, very stylish, $1.50.

It pays to buy reliable gloves. We have an odd lot of kid gloves, formerly $1 to $1.50, which we offer at 50c.

Rugs...

All styles and sizes. It's great stock we can show; immense is the word that best expresses it. Room sizes, over 50. Hall rugs, square rugs, rugs for every nook and corner. What makes a house look more home-like than pretty rugs here and there.

Our Ready-to-wear Garments are having a wonderful call these days; there is rightness about them, too, that women have learned. At $14 and $15, suits of herringbone cheviot and neat cloth checks that are beyond competition.

$3.50 wash silk waists in beautiful patterns; excellent, firm silk.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

Chicago, April 10.—Much heavier receipts of cattle than expected came for the opening trade this week and under the burden prices receded 10¢ to 20¢ from the range of late sales last week. In other branches the run was barely up to estimates and firm prices were paid for hogs, the average standing a shade higher than Saturday, while fat sheep and lambs sold mostly 10¢ above best prices that could be urged late last week. Opening receipts this week were estimated at 21,000 cattle, 29,000 hogs and 15,000 sheep. Late cattle trade was very sluggish, with some lots of plain, roughish steers and some very good beef stock at hand, upon which no reasonable bid had been made.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Both Houses Will Probably Adjourn Next Friday.

Springfield, Ill., April 11.—Members of the house are looking for trouble on the sine die adjournment resolution which was made a special order for to-day immediately after the reading of the journal.

Gov. Tanner said yesterday that the general assembly would adjourn next Friday. Speaker Sherman said "ditto," and the general impression is that the Forty-First general assembly will come to an end Friday night. Mr. Scroggin of McLean county has it in his power to prolong the life of the session, for his motion to reconsider the vote by which the sine die adjournment resolution was passed last week, is the one which will come up on special order to-day. Speaker Sherman will recognize no other man than Mr. Scroggin, who said he probably would not call up his motion. If he does not, the legislature will adjourn.

The house and senate started at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon on the home stretch. The house held two sessions, taking a recess for supper. It is Speaker Sherman's design to hereafter hold three sessions of the house daily. The senate held no night session. The house spent the afternoon advancing house and senate bills, most of them for appropriations.

In the evening the house passed the general tax-levy bill and killed the "mob violence" bill introduced by Mr. Martin of Cook county.

Among the bills advanced were the appropriation bills for the general expenses of the state militia; to pay for new tents and uniforms and to improve Camp Lincoln and the Logan rifle range.

Charlie Allen waited for a favorable opportunity to call up his "stockyards" bill, which is on the order of third reading. But when his chance came there were not enough members in the house to pass a bill. He will call it up to-day, and he says it will pass. The bill cuts down yardage charges in stockyards 10 cents a head on cattle and on all other stock in proportion. It also scales the price of feed, so that stockyard companies cannot charge over 50 per cent over the market value of grain and hay for feeding purposes.

Strike Becomes Serious.

Bay City, Mich., April 11.—The Consolidated Street Railway company started four cars Monday under guard of deputy sheriffs. A crowd attacked a car in West Bay City, pulled the crew off and drove them away. Another car had its windows smashed and had to be taken to the barn. Otherwise the strike situation is unchanged, but the crowd in this city is assuming a threatening attitude. The cars are carrying no passengers and the buses operated by the striking street railway employees are only moderately occupied. There are no signs of a settlement yet.

Pope Disregards Doctors.

Rome, April 11.—Despite the advice of his doctors the pope insists on attending at St. Peter's day services. Great preparations are being made to insure his safety and comfort. His doctors greatly fear the strain will be too great for him.

Ex-Senator Tabor Is Dead.

Denver, April 11.—H. A. Tabor, postmaster of this city and a ex-United States senator, died at 9:30 Monday of appendicitis, after three days' illness.

Strike Is Ended.

Mowqua, Ill., April 11.—The existing differences between the coal miners and operators have been settled. The men resume work under the union scale.

AMERICAN CONSTITUTION.

Alexander Hamilton on the American System of Government.

From Alexander Hamilton's speech on the Constitution of the United States: After all our doubts, all our suspicions and speculations on the subject of government, we must return, at last, to this important truth—that, when we have formed a constitution upon free principles, when we have given a proper balance to the different branches of administration, and fixed representation upon pure and equal principles, we may, with safety, furnish it with the powers necessary to answer, in the most ample manner, the purposes of government. The great desiderata are a free representation and mutual checks. When these are obtained all our apprehensions of the extent of powers are unjust and imaginary. What, then, is the structure of this constitution? One branch of the legislature is to be elected by the people—by the same people who choose your state representatives. Its members are to hold their office two years, and then return to their constituents. Here, sir, the people govern. Here they act by the immediate representatives. You have a state legislature—by men in whom you place the highest confidence—and forming another representative branch. Then, again, you have an executive magistrate, created by a form of election which merits universal admiration. In the form of this government, and in the mode of legislation, you find all the checks which the greatest politicians and the greatest writers have ever conceived. What more can reasonable men desire? Is there any one branch in which the whole legislative and executive powers are lodged? No! The legislative authority is lodged in three distinct branches, properly balanced; the executive authority is divided between two branches and the judicial is still reserved for an independent body, who hold their office during good behavior. This organization is so complex, so skillfully contrived, that it is next to impossible that an impolitic or a wicked measure should pass the great scrutiny with success. Now, what do gentlemen mean by coming forward and declaiming against this government? Why do they say we ought to limit its powers to disable it, and to destroy its capacity for blessing the people? Has philosophy suggested, has experience taught that such a government ought not to be trusted with everything necessary for the good of society? Sir, when you have divided and nicely balanced the departments of government; when you have strongly connected the virtue of your rulers with their interests; when, in short, you have rendered your system as perfect as human forms can be—you must place confidence; you must give power.

Help for People Buried Alive.

A Russian inventor has constructed an apparatus which is to enable people buried alive to communicate with the outer world should they awake from their trance in the grave. The invention consists in the main of a button on the inside of the coffin, situated immediately over the breast of the apparently dead person. If the unfortunate person comes to life and begins to breathe the first action of the body is the expansion of the chest; this presses the button upward, and an alarm bell is set going in the office of the superintendent of the cemetery.

The Rarest Bird.

The rarest bird in existence is a certain kind of pheasant in Annam. For many years its existence was known only by the fact that its longest and most splendid plume was in much request by mandarins for their headgear. A single skin is worth about $400, and the living bird would be priceless, but it soon dies in captivity.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

- 1730—Prince Eugene, famous soldier and associate of Marlborough, died; born 1665.
- 1753—Samuel C. F. Banne-man, founder of homeopathy, born in Saxony; died in Paris 1848.
- 1806—General Horatio Gates died in New York city; born in England 1728.
- 1852—John Howard Payne, author of "Home, Sweet Home," died in Tunis; born 1792. Payne was a typical Bohemian of the early part of this century. He never knew what it was to have a home after he was 13 years old, yet he produced the grandest home song ever written.
- 1868—General Manuel Gonzalez, ex-president of the Mexican republic, died, in the City of Mexico; born 1820.
- 1868—Colonel John A. Cockerill, the well known American journalist, died at Cairo, Egypt; born 1820. Governor John E. Jones of Nevada died at San Francisco; born 1840.
- 1887—The Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, died at Cannes, France; born 1851.

THE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION IN 1900.

The Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says that all surface indications point to the renomination of President McKinley by acclamation. Nevertheless, some of the president's friends have deemed it prudent to give attention to conditions. Inquiries are being made in several directions to determine whether movements adverse to a renomination are likely to be started. So far the search yields little that is definite. At this period in the Harrison administration discontent over the patronage was considerable. Organizations in several states were ready to take an anti administration position. The weakness of the situation was want of a candidate. That was what made it easy to elect and, instruct Harrison delegates. But now the state organizations are manifesting no restiveness, and a candidate in the person of the general of the army stands waiting for support to rally to him. Not a state organization shows any disposition to break away from the administration. This president is a wonderful harmonizer. If the conditions were as those of 1891, the Miles movement would be booming today. As it is, nobody can tell if it will survive the wet nursing which ex-Secretary Sherman is bestowing upon it.

A few weeks ago some of Theodore Roosevelt's indiscreet friends tried to put him in opposition to the administration, and began to talk of him as a possible candidate for the presidential nomination in 1900. Their suggestive efforts fell flat. It did not appear that Colonel Roosevelt had been refused a medal of honor or promotion or that he had been in any way suppressed by the administration. Talk of Mr. Roosevelt as a candidate before 1904 has entirely ceased.

Speaker Reed has apparently put behind him all White House ambition. He is not even mentioned as a possibility. That old sarcastic manner, so familiar before the canvass for delegates in 1895, has returned. The comments upon persons and things are those of a man who doesn't stop to think of a national convention. The speaker walks up and down Pennsylvania avenue alone. He has no political manager. He goes and comes as he wills. He says what he pleases. He is not a candidate for the presidency the next time or any other time. If he was he would do differently.

To the White House go Platt and Quay and Hanna and Foraker, and all of the republicans who are powerful in their respective states. The president has not surrendered to one set of leaders and made enemies of another. The exceeding fairness of his policy towards all has made friends of all. And so when one looks around for the nucleus of an opposition which might grow into something formidable before a national convention it cannot be found. This president seems at this time to be the president of his whole party, and to have given no cause for the development of opposition to his renomination. The candidacy for Gen. Miles looks like an uphill affair.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

It is against the rules to carry matches on board a modern man-of-war.

The number of Chinese in San Francisco is about 20,000, including 2,500 women.

The newest cry of the London waiters is that they are being ousted by girls.

REGULAR MEETING
COMMON COUNCIL

CANVASS ELECTION RETURNS
LAST EVENING.

Further Consideration for Notices of Inquiry.—The Last Meeting of Old Council Next Monday Evening.—Not in Favor of Granting Rebate of Taxes to James Shields.

A regular meeting of the common council was held last evening.

The report of the city treasurer for March, also his annual report were referred to finance committee, who subsequently ordered the annual report published.

The report of the board of education for February and March were reported correct and ordered published by the committee on schools.

Report of the municipal court for March was reported correct by the judiciary committee.

Notices of injuries in the cases of Mrs. William S. Spaulding and Miss Lydia Peters, also the notice of claim for loss of society, medical attendance, etc., by William Spaulding, were referred to the judiciary committee, who were granted further time to report.

The report of Ald. Burnham on a batch of bills against the several funds was adopted.

The committee to whom was referred application of James Shields for rebate of taxes, reported in favor of not granting application and the report was adopted.

The judiciary committee was granted further time to report on the petition to open Almond street.

The poll books of the recent election, reported the total vote received by each and names of those elected. Report adopted.

The Gazette was made the official city paper until May 2nd.

A resolution was introduced and adopted providing for advertising of bids for official paper.

All poles in the city used for stringing wires were ordered painted white and the butts as the chief engineer desired.

An order was introduced and adopted directing the street commissioner to serve notice for a new sidewalk across Carlington street, and to build a sidewalk across Oakland avenue on the east side of East street under the direction of the alderman of the ward.

Tolstoi's Daughter at Work.
Tolstoi's second daughter, Maria, is putting into practical operation some of her father's theories. When the family property was divided she refused to accept her portion, and though she lives at home, she works in the fields with the peasants, and turns over the money she makes to those who are disabled by illness. The money she makes, to be sure, is not excessive. Twenty or thirty kopecks a day comprise all her gain—a kopeck being half a cent of our money. When asked why she did not devote herself to more lucrative labors, the better to provide for her indigent neighbors, she replied: "As a matter of fact, I know of nothing I can do that will bring me in more money than my work in the field does. I have not been trained to make a living equal to that which I now enjoy at home, and if I were forced to shift for myself I don't know that I could do any better than by working as a peasant woman."

Case Like Logan's.
It is recalled that Gen. Miles is not the only commander-in-chief of the army who has been called a liar by a subordinate. Ninety years ago Gen. Winfield Scott, who was then a captain in the army, was tried by court-martial for having said at a public table that he never saw but two traitors—Gens. Wilkinson and Burr—and that Gen. Wilkinson was a liar and a scoundrel. He was found guilty, and was suspended for a year, notwithstanding the fact that his utterance turned out to be true.

Asia the Birthplace of Leprosy.
The original home of leprosy is Asia, and it flourishes there more than in any other part of the globe. China is a hotbed of leprosy; in Japan it prevails extensively, while in India it is known that there are at least some 130,000 lepers.

Pompador Wives in Siam.
The wives of Siamese noblemen cut their hair so that it sticks straight up from their heads. The average length of it is about one and one-half inches.

WITH THE HUMORIST.
"It is no longer a question as to whether we shall annex the Philippines."
"No."
"Certainly not. It is now a question as to whether we shall retain Dewey."
—Chicago Post.

"They can say what they please," said the new woman, "but these domestic girls have no advantage over us."
"Except when it comes to getting married," interrupted the old man.—Chicago Post.

"Is he a politician?"
"No; he is not a politician."
"How do you know he is not a politician?"
"The check on the clothes he wears is not large enough."—Chicago Post.

"There are sermons in stones."
"Yes; a widow generally gives her second husband a bigger monument than she does her first."—Chicago Record.

A Doubtful Excuse.

Misses (finding visitor in kitchen)—Who is this, Mary? Mary (confusedly)—My brother, m'm. Mistress (suspiciously)—You're not much alike Mary (stammering apologetically)—We were, m'm; but he's just had his beard shaved off, and that makes him look different, m'm.

Gen. Garland's Last Case.
The case which ex-Attorney-General Garland was arguing before the supreme court when he was stricken by the hand of death appears on the docket as "No. 198; Blanche K. Townsend et al., appellants, versus Christian V. Moore et al.; argument concluded by Mr. A. H. Garland for the appellants." Miss Townsend seeks to set aside the will of her mother, who left $15,000 in bonds to each of her other daughters, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Russell, but failed to mention herself. The lower court sustained the will and the disinherited heir appealed. Her first attorney was the late Judge H. O. Cloughton, who was killed by a railroad accident on the day before he was to commence his argument; and now his successor, Mr. Garland, fails dead in the midst of his presentation of the case.—Chicago Record.

Why Sheep Are Woolly.
If you want to ask a sheep where he got his wool and why, take a dog into a mountain pasture band, and if the sheep are afraid of the dog they will invariably run uphill rather than down. You have your answer. The ancestors of the domestic sheep, like wild sheep of the present day, lived among high mountains, and needed their woolly covering to protect them against the constant cold of high atmospheres. They chose the high and inhospitable region to live in because they found the fierce flesh-eating animals of the plains too strong for them. A proof of these facts is that the wool grows on a sheep the year round.

Why She Was Disappointed.
He—So you visited Pompeii? She—Oh, yes. He—How did you like it? She—Well, I must say I was awfully disappointed in the place. Of course, it was beautifully located and all that, but it was dreadfully out of repair.

The richest gold mine in the world is in Victoria, Australia, under the thriving town of Ballarat, and in 50 years has yielded $150,000,000.

For Sale.

My place, known as the Wm. Payne homestead, consisting of forty-three acres, all within the city limits and within four blocks of street cars. The house is a model and all the buildings are first-class. I will sell the place with all farm appliances, horses, Jersey cattle, wagons, carriages, and with curtains, carpets and similar household fittings, far below value on account of ill health. BURNT CORK COMEDY BY SOCIETY FOLK

GOLF CLUB MINSTRELS MAKE A BIG HIT.

Full House Cheers the Production to the Echo—Many Surprises Sprung on the Audience and Other Surprises Are Promised For This Evening.

"It certainly was good," to borrow a phrase from one of the soloists.

"There never was a minstrel show in Janesville before," said enthusiastic young men as the curtain fell at the Myers Grand last night.

Two hours of rollicking fun, good singing and snappy dancing backed this verdict.

There was vim and spirit and crispness about the whole programme and so carefully guarded had everything been that it was all a surprise. No wonder the St. Louis Golf Club Lady Minstrels scored a hit.

The audience was large and enthusiastic. Every ally found quick response and more appreciative auditors could not have been desired. A share of the audience in front seats and box appeared in black face to the great joy of the company.

Before the curtain rose there was a concert by the fourteen-piece orchestra from the state school for the blind. This was a delightful inaugural, and the melody and charm of the orchestral work put the audience in good humor at once. Later in the evening the orchestra was again heard—during the intermission, and in a rag time march for the cake walk. Each selection drew loud applause.

Forty fair ones in burnt cork and kinky hair, gave greeting when the curtain rose. Mrs. Norman W. Church was the statuesque and impressive interlocutor, and made an instantaneous hit in that part as well as in her song "He Certainly Was Good to Me." Her leading of her cake walk only added to her triumph.

The four ends entered into the minstrel spirit with unctious and zest. More ebullient and lustrous "tambors" than Mrs. O. H. Brand and Miss Lucille Hindman would be hard to find; and the "bones," Misses Harriet Holt and Grace Brownell, had a rag time manner even when they tried to sit still. The "Pas Ma-La" as danced by the four ends had to be repeated, so manifest was the appreciation. Miss Hindman made one of the hits of the evening with her song, "I Don't Care If You Nigger Come Back" and Mrs. Brand had to be held back to keep from making another with her Bower City parody, "I Don't Like No Cheap Man." This bunch of local hits was saved for tonight.

Mrs. Edward J. Carroll's sweet soprano voice was heard to advantage in "Just One Girl." She responded to an encore with the parody, "Just One Club."

Miss Grace Hall delighted the audience with her rich contralto. She gave "A Creole Love Song" and also responded to an encore.

When George Gilligan, the $10,000 Black Patti rocked majestically across the stage the audience howled its approval. Black Patti was resplendent in yellow and red, and won all hearts with the fervor and feeling with which he gave "Ben Bolt." There was not a dry eye in the house when he finished, and he was obliged to sing "Suaviee River" so the audience could have a chance to taper off.

Kramer Doty and the animated song sheet made a hit with "They Never Mention Your Name" and had to respond to an encore. So did Daisy MacLean after her taking song, "Bye-bye, My Linda-Ginda"—in fact Miss Daisy was recalled twice. The Orpheus Mandolin Club gave two very pleasing numbers; and the "Wedding of the Chinese and the Cooon" was then announced by a burst of jerky Hong Kong melody. Misses Ida Taylor, Josephine Sater, Helen Fifield and Lillian Bemis were four very attractive Chinese maidens while Mrs. Frank Echlin, Mrs. Frank Reynolds, Miss Josephine Farnsworth and Miss Alma Golling were the grooms. Frequent applause was evoked by their clever impersonations.

There was a five minute laughing spell while Mark Bostwick exhibited his trained donkeys—Ross King and Ned Whiton.

Then came the cake walk. It was good—that cake walk. There was unctious and gallantry and grace and zest.

Applause rewarded each striking demonstration but so evenly divided was the applause that the award of the cake cannot be made until tonight. Those who took part were Miss Alon Golling and Mrs. H. L. Pulker; Misses Lou Kent and Agnes Shumway; Misses Helen Nash and Lucie Hindman; Mrs. Frank Reynolds and Mrs. E. J. Carroll. The first named ladies in each couple took the part of gentlemen, and Mrs. Norman W. Church led it all with the suave inspiration of an artist.

As said before, the house last night was large and the show was worthy of it. To insure fresh interest this evening many new departures are promised. Among those who took prominent parts in the performance were:

Modams—
E. J. Carroll, E. J. Smith,
F. B. Echlin, E. D. Roberts,

Tickets good for return on any day within limit. For further information call or address agent C. & N. W. R'y. Telephone 35.

About Maple Sugar.

We cannot say too much about this new Ohio maple sugar we have lately received. It is even better than we expected, and is far ahead in flavor of anything we ever put into stock.

The man who makes it we know personally; he is a relative of one of Janesville's business men. A First ward lady came in the other day and bought some of it. She knows good sugar, too; and ever since then she has been telling her friends how good it is.

We are selling maple sugar from her recommendation. Costs only 12½c per pound. No higher than cheap impure stuff. Sanborn.

SUDDEN DEMISE OF OTTO E. SMITH

FOUND DEAD THIS MORNING BY HIS WIFE.

Was Lying on the Floor of the Bath Room—Cause of Death Was Apoplexy—Partook of Breakfast and Complained But Little of Being Ill.

Otto E. Smith, proprietor of Smith's Hotel, corner of Wall and Academy streets, was found dead at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Dr. Hugo Speier, who was called, said that death resulted from apoplexy.

Last evening near the 11 o'clock hour, Mr. Smith retired in his usual good spirits.

During the night he experienced much difficulty in sleeping and spoke to his wife, saying that he was not feeling well.

Before retiring, Mr. Smith left instructions with Charles Scharf, the clerk, to call him early because he had some business to attend to.

At 5:45 o'clock Mr. Smith dressed and went down stairs, addressing those in the office with a cheerful "Good Morning."

He remained about the office, and although he did not seem in the best of health, made no complaint, and with members of his family partook of breakfast at 7:30 o'clock.

Half an hour after breakfast Mr. Smith made the remark that he was not feeling well, and that he thought he would go to his bedroom on the second floor, and rest.

Instead of going to his bedroom he went to the bath room, and while there was stricken and fell to the floor. A half hour later, Mrs. Smith on passing the bath room, discovered the body of her husband.

Life was already extinct and the body was placed on a couch and Dr. Speier was called.

Otto E. Smith was born in Germany and when a small boy came to America, locating with his parents at Whitewater, where he was married.

Twenty years ago, he moved to Janesville and has since made the Bower City his home.

For many years he conducted a two story frame hotel at the corner of Wall and Academy streets, which was replaced by the present three story brick structure.

For the past thirty years he has been a prominent member of the Odd Fellow order, taken a keen interest in its welfare.

Being of a jovial disposition he made friends easily and those who had business dealings with him, considered him a straight forward business man.

He leaves a wife, three sons and a daughter. Mrs. Charles Stearns of Chicago, and Edward O. Otto E., Jr. and Benjamin Smith of this city.

Mrs. S. G. Cool.

Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, after a lingering illness of consumption, Mrs. S. G. Cool passed peacefully to rest. Her death occurred at her home, No. 105 North Academy street. She had been confined to her bed for the past twelve weeks and during the past two weeks she has suffered great agony.

Deceased was twenty-four years of age and leaves beside her husband one child four years of age to mourn her. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home. Rev. A. C. Kempton will officiate. Music by the Baptist choir. Interment will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Chevellers Attention.

Special meeting of Canton Janesville No. 9, P. M., at 8 o'clock this evening at West Side Odd Fellows hall for the purpose of making arrangements to attend the funeral of our late brother, O. E. Smith.

CHICAGO CAKE WALKERS HERE

Will Hold Forth at the Armory This Evening.

King Rex and his merry crowd of maskers will hold forth away this evening at the Armory, and present, indications are that one of the largest crowds that well known dancing hall has ever held, will be in attendance. The main attraction is a cake walk that will not be found lacking in any respect. Never before in the history of Janesville, has a cake walk been put on as it will be this evening, and Chicago walkers who make it a business will be in attendance.

Mr. Simons and Miss Stewart and Mr. Nichols and Miss Hogan of Chicago, will take the lead, and will execute the walk in true southern style. Prof. Johnny Smith's full orchestra will be in attendance.

From 9 o'clock till 11 King Rex and his maskers will have possession of the floor. By special request, the cake walkers will appear promptly at 11 o'clock. This has been arranged so that those who witness the home minstrel performance may attend. Delegations this evening are expected from Beloit, Brodhead and Rockford, and it will pay those who intend going to be on hand early.

At Beloit, this same King Rex, Johnny Smith's orchestra and the Chicago cake walkers held forth last evening in the largest dancing hall in the city. It was crowded to the doors by spectators who fairly raised the roof with their loud applause as the cake walkers neared the finish.

The managers guarantee those who attend this evening the best all around cake walking aggregation that is to be found in the west.

NEWS OF PERSONAL NATURE.

A. A. JACKSON was in Monroe today.

Attorney Cornelius Buckley, of Beloit, was here today on business.

GRANT FISHER, of the town of Center, is seriously ill. A physician was summoned from this city.

Mrs. Gilligan and son, of Milwaukee, were in the city last evening to attend the minstrel performance.

Mrs. H. E. Dick and two sons, of Chicago, are guests at the home of Mrs. Dick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Withington.

Curry Attorney F. C. Burpee and J. J. Cunningham were in Madison yesterday on business connected with the case of Collins against the city of Janesville.

C. HOLLINS, who has been a resident of this city for some time past, has accepted a position with the Pullman Palace Car company at Pullman, Ill., and leaves for that city on Thursday. His family will accompany him.

STATE GUARD WITH JANESVILLE OUT

WISCONSIN NATIONAL GUARD WILL REORGANIZE.

Bill Now Before the Legislature—Looks As Though the Bower City Was Not Included—State Officials Pay Little Attention to the Petition Sent From Here.

Several weeks ago, a petition containing the names of a sufficient number of young men here willing to form a military company, was sent to Madison to be acted on by the state military officials.

From the day it was sent nothing has been heard by those who undertook the work of forming a company here.

That the state officials are anything but pleased over the failure to form a company here last winter after Colonel Caldwell had been sent here to muster in, undoubtedly has something to do with the present state of affairs.

The bill reorganizing the Wisconsin National Guard will probably be passed by the legislature this week. Under it there will be three twelve-company regiments and one battalion of four companies, a troop and a battery. The governor and adjutant general will select the companies. It is expected that the old National Guard companies, which have been reorganized, and have been mustered in will be given the preference.

Five of the eight companies of the old First regiment have been mustered in—Madison, Whitewater, Fort Atkinson, Beloit and Monroe. The Racine, Darlington and Janesville have failed to muster.

Attention, W. R. C.

The committee in charge having postponed the anniversary entertainment, the members of the W. R. C. will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at G. A. R. hall. The ladies will come prepared to sew and bring refreshments; their families are invited to supper, and the evening will be spent in a social manner. The ladies will prepare the papers assigned them at last meeting.

No matter what wheel a man rides, if you tell him it "runs like a Victor" he is very apt to feel flattered.

Victor running qualities are pretty well known in Janesville. We have been selling Victors several years, and we find that once a man rides a Victor he is hard to satisfy with any other wheel.

That's a good point about the Victor.

We have other good wheels, and each have their own good points.

A MILLIONAIRE LOVE.

IT COULD NOT BE SHIFTED TO ANOTHER.

James Tyson Dies a Bachelor Worth $25,000,000, After Cherishing for Fifty Years the Memory of a Romantic Youthful Passion.

There died in Sydney, Australia, the other day a man worth $25,000,000, who had the name of being a woman-hater. Eccentric James Tyson was; woman-hater he was not, for in his shy heart he carried for fifty years the sweetest of romances; for half a century he dreamed of the woman who had won his love in youth, but to whom he never spoke of his regard. If he had spoken, all might have been different, but with a shyness rare in those whom fate has destined for vast wealth and unlimited power, he deemed himself unworthy to woo where his errant love had flown. Tyson was literally born in the bush and worked as a farmhand, doing wonderful feats with his gigantic strength. He saved his money and went to a hill station to herd bullocks, in constant danger of his life from black fellows. He was grimly determined to succeed. After some years of toil he "set up" for himself on the Billyong river with his savings. Drought killed his herd and drove him to desperation, and he had to give up the experiment and go to cattle keeping "on thirds" for others, a system which gives all the risk and most of the profit to the capitalist. Even this required some capital, however, and to secure the money he needed, Tyson set out to cross 200 miles of wild scrub to get $5 which Sir John Hay owed him. He had one shilling and food for three days. This was his fortune. Then the food failed, but Tyson was not one of those who, "in the faith of little children, laid down and died." Feeding his great hunger upon grass and roots he forced himself along. In the wastes he babbled of green fields. He grew light-headed, sang hoarsely, played strange pranks all by himself. At last, as much by luck as management, he crossed the range and found water. Sane once more, when he began to fear that he might never see Hay's house, fate willed that he should see a cottage in the bush, and an old man just entering. Tyson approached, intending to ask his way, but somewhat embarrassed by the constitutional shyness which all his life made it hard for him to talk to strangers, he hesitated. At that moment a girl came out of the cottage. What Tyson saw was "a beautiful young bush-reared girl, dark, rosy and well grown." What the girl saw was a stark young fellow of barely twenty-one, six feet four inches tall and mighty of form, worn almost to a skeleton and grimed with the dust of the waterless waste he had dragged himself across, but with something in his face which told her that the man was good and under better conditions would be beautiful.

JAMES TYSON.
(Ten Years Ago.)

"I wish, miss," he began diffidently, "to inquire the way to—" "But you are hungry," cried the girl; "come in and eat." No wonder she looked to the starving man like an angel of mercy. Tyson drew back, but the girl put her hand upon his arm and in the simple manner of the women of the wilderness drew him into the hut. She called to her sister to come and help, and in a few minutes Tyson was sitting before a good breakfast. The young bushman was in the house but fifteen minutes at most. So shy was he that he scarcely spoke to the girl he had at first seen, but he turned upon her eyes that were eloquent. He could not have told what her sister looked like. He never knew afterward whether the father came into the room. He was like one in a dream. And in a dream he went away with mumbled inarticulate thanks and a look in his honest eyes that the girl for years remembered. For some reason Tyson did not get his $5 from Sir John Hay; he traveled 400 miles for fifty years of heartache instead. That was all. Back to his station Tyson went, catching fish for food and using his one shilling as a ferry fee to cross a river. He was enabled to begin herding "on thirds" by his brother, who had £12. So the Murrumbidgee range began. The cattle thrive. That was the whole story for five years, so far as concerned Tyson's finances. But there was another side of his life. In the pursuit of a dream of happiness he crossed the burned range again and again, until every dry-burned mile of plain was familiar to him, not to see or speak to his love, but to be near her, to know that she was well. She did not marry. If the truth were known, a pair of appealing eyes looked at her when others spoke of love, a shadowy, great form raised itself in mute appeal of manliness and strength, as she had seen it but once, gaunt from the fight with dry death, between her and those who would have wooed her. There were many of them—for in the backwoods pretty girls are scarce—but never a man like Tyson.

Then came the gold fever. Tyson did not dig. He fed the diggers with meat, and there was money in that. He did not, like other stockmen, sell short, in the belief that the market was only temporary. He had faith that the diggings would last, and so was able to sell more largely every year, and to buy big cattle ranges near the gold fields. He sunk wells to get never-failing water. He threw uselessly, piled up money that he could not enjoy, and learned, as the years rolled by, to look on wealth as a hollow mockery. From a youth of twenty-one Tyson had grown to a man of forty before the blow fell. The girl he loved was probably thirty-five or thirty-six. If waiting it was, she had waited long; had sent away many suitors, had seen her sister wed and her father dead, until at last, left alone in the world, she came to see more and more dimly the appealing eyes and hesitant form of the gigantic bushman who had touched her heart.

One day when Tyson made his customary trip across the range, which for twenty years he had traveled until he had almost worn a path in the wilderness, he learned upon inquiry that the woman of his heart was married. He never came near her again. For twenty years he had not seen her. For thirty years to come he would not even see again the scene of his one encounter with Cupid. He would stay away and forget.

It was about this time that Tyson began to be known as an eccentric. Though a millionaire, he lived, and dressed like one of his cattle punchers. He had no use for money. "The little game," he used to say, "that is the fun. Fighting the desert has been my work. I have been fighting the desert all my life, and I have won! I have put water where was no water, and beef where was no beef. I have put fences where there were no fences, and roads where there were no roads. Nothing can undo what I have done, and millions will be happier for it after I am long dead and forgotten." His life was lived in the open air. He never entered a church or a theater or a public house, he never tasted beer, wine or spirits, he never swore and never washed with soap—he used sand instead—nor wore a white shirt or a glove.

Though he never entered a church he built one, and when asked to give $100 for lightning rods, Tyson replied: "That I will not. I have given a church to Almighty God, and if He can't take care of it He doesn't deserve to have it."

Tyson was seventy-one when he died, a bachelor worth $25,000,000, the richest of all Australians. Sometimes in his old age he would speak of his life philosophically. Then he would say, as if musing, with long pauses between his sentences, as usual with one who talks but seldom:

"Religion ain't my business. I do what I think right and I stand to take my chances. Every man has a chance. That's enough for me."

"Yes, they call me a woman-hater, but I ain't. I don't think much of most of the women there are now. They scold and they think too much of dress, and they are spiteful toward each other. Their minds are full of small things. Dear, dear, there's a deal for husbands to bear!"

"Maybe it's as well I never married. I have been happy; sufficiently so. If a woman'd been kind to me she'd have twisted me 'round her finger and my work wouldn't have been done. A wife would have wanted me to settle down like other men."

"There was a woman—a long time ago, when I was a young fellow. She was good and kind, and I thought she was beautiful, though maybe you wouldn't. She—well, she was the only woman I ever thought of marrying."

That was the life story of James Tyson, millionaire.

The London Times, from whose columns most of the facts about Tyson were obtained, does not state what disposition the lonely old bachelor made of his vast fortune.

The more ancient the scheme the more victims it manages to gather in

Is Not to Succeed Gen. Alger.

Washington, April 11.—Persistent reports have been circulated here for some time of an intention on the part of Secretary Alger to resign after the inquiries into the conduct of the war have ended, and last night these were coupled with the statement that Senator McMillan of Michigan had been determined on as Gen. Alger's successor. Senator McMillan, when seen, however, made a positive disclaimer of any knowledge of a change in the cabinet.

Explosives Sent to Andrews.

New York, April 11.—Wallace C. Andrews, who was one of the thirteen persons killed at the fire in his home at 2 East Sixty-seventh street last Friday, received in the latter part of February a package by mail containing explosives. This fact, which has just developed, confirms the belief that the fire was of incendiary origin and had some relation to the threats made in the anonymous letters sent to Mr. Andrews and other members of his family.

Russia Lacks War Supplies.

Odessa, April 11.—A complete overhauling of all of the government arsenals and supply depots has been ordered. The St. Petersburg authorities are ignorant of the actual amount of the reserve supplies. It is believed that there are heavy deficiencies. Proper records have not been kept of the recent shipments to the far east. There are also grave rumors of fraud and corruption on the part of sundry government officials.

Quays Now on Trial.

Philadelphia, April 11.—Before Judge Riddle in the Court of Quarter Sessions Monday the trial of Senator Matthew S. Quay and his son, Richard R. Quay, on charges of conspiracy in the misuse of funds of the People's bank of this city, was begun, with many noted men present as witnesses. The general public, aside from those directly interested in the case and newspaper men, were excluded.

Home endorsement its salient point. Mr. Thos. Pratt of 281 South Main St. says: "I doctored off and on, for forty years, attempting to rid myself of backache, which came on by spells, very painful when at their height and even when somewhat allayed, the dull aching grinding was sure to manifest itself, if I overtaxed myself, caught cold or did any work which brought a strain on the muscles of the back. Often I have been so lame and sore that there were days I was confined to my room almost helpless, certainly unable to get up or down. Like a great many other people in Janesville I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the Janesville Co.'s drug store, led to do so by the peculiar advertisement which riveted my attention. After taking a thorough course of the remedy I was able to go to the quarry and sling an eighteen pound hammer without showing any signs of a recurrence. If I am subjected to future attacks I know what remedy to employ."

BATTLE IN STREETS OF PANA.

Deadly Conflict Between Citizens and Negro Miners.

NINE KNOWN TO BE DEAD.

Trouble Started by a Leader of the Negroes Firing on the Sheriff—State Militia Patrol the Town and Martial Law Proclaimed—Killed and Wounded.

Pana, Ill., April 11.—After an all-day battle between armed citizens, sworn in as deputy sheriffs, and the non-uniform negro miners, in which at least nine persons were killed and a score wounded, this city is under martial law. Soldiers patrol every street, disarming deputies and miners alike, their instructions being to restore order by any means in their power.

Two negroes, one the man responsible for the outbreak, are safe behind the bars of the jail at Taylorville, having been taken to the county seat to prevent lynching. Both are severely wounded, one having six bullets in his body.

From the time the rioting began, at 10 o'clock Monday morning, until the soldiers arrived, at 6 o'clock in the evening, the city was practically divided into two hostile armies, each taking advantage of every possible opportunity to wreak vengeance upon members of the other. Even women were not spared, one being among the dead and several among the wounded. From points of vantage in the coal companies' shafts the negroes, angered by the shooting of a comrade, poured volley after volley into the town, bullets taking effect half a mile away. That the citizens, replied with interest is evident from the fact that no fewer than six negroes are known to be dead and it is believed that fully as many more succumbed to wounds after being taken to their quarters.

The dead are: COBURN, FRANK, agent for the Pabst Brewing company; instantly killed by bullet fired from the tower of the Penwell mine.

HOOKS, LOUIS, negro coal miner.

JAMES, J. L., negro coal miner.

LECOQC, XAVIER, union miner.

MORRISON, HORACE, negro coal miner.

WATKINS, CHARLES, negro coal miner.

UNIDENTIFIED NEGRO WOMAN; shot through the body.

TWO UNIDENTIFIED NEGRO MINERS.

The wounded are:

Dorsey, W. C., negro; right thigh fractured.

Dellington, Med, negro coal miner; shot through the left knee.

Felix, Miss Clara, waitress at the Harrison hotel; shot through the back while washing dishes.

Frank, George, negro miner; shot through right knee.

Gingham, George, farmer of Rosamond; shot in left arm.

Henriot, Mrs. August; shot in left arm; serious.

Kuh, William, laundryman; shot in both thighs and left hand.

Rolle, Clinton, negro coal miner; shot in left shoulder; arm broken; serious.

Proffitt, W. C., drayman; shot in left foot.

Strickler, Cyrus; shot twice in the back.

Stevens, Henry, negro instigator of the trouble; shot in the back of the neck; possibly fatal; taken to Taylorville.

Vickerage, —, union miner; shot through right hand.

Whitmer, Merit, guard at the Penwell office; shot in right knee and cap broken; amputation necessary.

Whitfield, Louis, negro miner; shot in right ankle and bone shattered.

No accurate estimate of the casualties among the negroes is possible, as many of the wounded were carried indoors by their comrades.

Henry Stevens, a negro miner, who has long been considered a leader among his associates, is declared to have been the direct cause of the riot. It is said that he was also the leader of the riot that occurred last September.

Stevens has long cherished hatred of Sheriff Downey and has openly made threats that he would kill him on sight. Monday he met the sheriff on the street and opened fire on him with a revolver. The sheriff replied, and Stevens took to his heels and succeeded in reaching Penwell's general store in Locust street, the principal thoroughfare, two blocks distant. He hesitated there an instant and then stepped to the pavement, leveled his revolver down the street toward his approaching pursuer and fired. The bullet missed the sheriff and struck Xavier Lecoqc, a Frenchman, who was standing in the entrance of a near-by saloon, squarely in the forehead, killing him instantly. Stevens then turned and ran into the Penwell store and sought refuge behind the counter.

Sheriff Downey dashed into the store followed by Deputy Cheney and several citizens. Stevens emptied his revolver at his assailants from behind the counter and then made a desperate dash from his cover to a stairway in the rear of the store. He fell, pierced by six bullets, before he had gone ten feet. He was then taken to jail.

Meanwhile the riot was raging in the street. As soon as the first shots had been fired the whistle of the electric light plant was blown as a signal for the citizens, the majority of whom had long ago been sworn as deputies, to turn out armed and ready to fight. At the same time the miners of the Pana and Penwell mines, which are located about four blocks from the Penwell store, which is in the center of the town, rushed into the tipples and opened fire on the thronged streets, the news that Stevens, one of their number, had been shot and arrested arousing them to a pitch of fury. They shot at any living mark in sight, and as a result among the victims are three women, two of whom are white women, wounded and one negro woman dead.

As soon as possible a heavy provost guard was placed on duty. However, a continuous fire was kept up throughout the day. Frank Coburn was shot through the head by a bullet from the tower.

The business houses were closed throughout the day and no business was transacted. Many of the residences and business houses throughout the city were punctured with bullets from the mine tower and numerous persons had narrow escapes. Almost every section of the city received a shower of lead and it was unsafe for anyone to venture out. The public schools were dismissed.

The situation quieted down at nightfall and no more trouble was looked for. Adj. Gen. Reese, Col. A. E. Culver and three companies of infantry arrived at 6 o'clock on special trains and perfect order was maintained throughout the town from that time on. The companies of infantry are company H from Decatur, under Capt. Castle; company C from Springfield, under First Lieut. Bauman, and company B from Taylorville; under Capt. B. Parish.

The military upon arrival immediately arrested every deputy sheriff, including Chief Deputy Cheney, all of whom were disarmed and then released. Chief of Police William Kiely was also arrested by the soldiers and taken before Col. Culver, who, disarmed him, relieving him of his own weapons. On the train which brought companies B and C came the assistant state's attorney, Charles C. Shamel, of Taylorville, to represent the state in the difficulty, but the military officials gave him little attention. Deputy Doyle of Taylorville, head deputy sheriff under Sheriff Downey, demanded his legal rights as an official to give proper protection to his special deputies, but his demands were given but little attention.

The report is general that several miners were dead and dying in fields near mine No. 2 of the Pana Coal company, having been killed by stray bullets, but it is impossible to ascertain the facts regarding the story.

This impression is given credence also by the fact that a dead negro miner was found after nightfall in the road near shaft No. 2. The firing in that vicinity was general, and it is not improbable that a search will result in other bodies being discovered.

While the shooting was at its worst and the city under mob rule Sheriff Downey left Taylorville, by way of Litchfield, to place Stevens in jail at the county seat. When it was known by the citizens that the sheriff had left the city without providing for the restoration of peace they took the matter up with the governor, and the result was the issuance of the order to the three companies to come to Pana at once for riot duty.

Coroner Bradley said he had been told that the bodies of six more negro miners had been found in the Flat-ham district. The coroner was unable to verify the rumor.

The riot of Monday was virtually the sequel to disturbances Sunday night, when 100 deputy sheriffs were called into the Flat-ham and Penwell mining district to protect families of negroes who were endeavoring to load their household effects preparatory to leaving for Iowa, and who were being prevented by negro guards armed with rifles, who claimed the goods the negroes were moving were common property. Deputies guarded the negroes while they loaded their goods into wagons, conveyed them to railroad cars, and packed them for shipment. The negroes, their wives, and children, were then marched to Union Miners' hall, where they were fed and cared for by white union miners.

During the night the deputies who were guarding the negroes in the Penwell district were fired upon by unknown persons, supposed to be negroes and private guards at the Penwell mine, and fully 200 shots were exchanged, but no casualties have been reported. The firing greatly terrorized the residents of that section, who appealed to Chief Deputy Cheney for protection. Cheney thereupon sent a special detail of deputies armed with rifles, who patrolled all the streets, and soon succeeded in restoring quiet. Several negroes were arrested, changed with inciting riot. One hundred and fifty negroes left the city Sunday and 100 more Monday.

GERMANY FILES A PROTEST.

Will Not Recognize Malietoa as King of Samoa.

WANTS OLD ARRANGEMENT.

Berlin Foreign Office Holds to the Opinion That the Provisions of the Treaty Have Been Violated—Our Government Likely to Uphold Admiral Kautz.

Berlin, April 11.—The foreign office discredits the statement cable here that the state department at Washington considers the coronation of Malietoa Tanu as king of Samoa valid according to the treaty.

Since his interview with Emperor William Ambassador White has met Baron von Buelow and Sir Frank Lascelles, and has cabled the result to Washington. It is understood that there is nothing indicative of belligerence in the dispatch, but that it relates to the desire of the German government to return to the provisional arrangement made by the three consuls.

GERMANY FILES A PROTEST.

That Country's Position on the Samoan Question Is Plainly Stated.

Washington, April 11.—German Ambassador von Holleben called on Secretary Hay Monday and stated the position of Germany on the Samoan question.

It is understood that formal objection to the installation of Malietoa Tanu as king of Samoa by the American and British officials at Apia was registered by Ambassador von Holleben. Similar action is understood to have been taken by the German ambassador in London.

The German government holds that in the enthronement of Tanu the United States and Great Britain have violated the terms of the treaty of Berlin, which Germany alleges forbids the installation of either Mataafa or Tanu as king. Germany holds that the Washington and London governments should have waited for the report and finding of the commission which is to investigate the entire Samoan question.

Tanu having been installed, Germany holds that in justice to herself the two governments should return the situation in Samoa to that which existed prior to his installation.

It is not believed that the American officials propose to take any such action. Germany has been informed, however, that the United States is quite willing that the commission shall consider the kingship question, and that this is the extent to which this government will go.

The German government has also objected to the course of Rear-Admiral Kautz in the matter of the dissolution of the provisional government and the shelling of Mataafa's forces.

Germany seems disposed to support Consul Rose, whom Admiral Kautz accuses of causing most of the trouble.

ALMOST GARDEN MAKING TIME!

A welcome thought to all lovers of out door work of this sort. The last two years we have pleased hundreds of customers with the best of seeds—

Landreth's Seeds!

This year we expect to please the same people and many more. We will sell Landreth's seeds again the coming season. Our seed experience runs over a good many years, yet in all that time we never have sold a brand of seeds that were superior from every point as Landreth's; they are true to name in every particular. Landreth's Seeds

ARE NEVER OLD.

Each year the old stock on hand is destroyed, so that the stock of this season was grown on the Landreth farms last year. Landreth's include every variety known, and germinating qualities cannot be better. We have received our spring invoices of them and have them opened up ready for sale. The Landreth & Son's seed house was established in 1784 and are now in their 115th year of continuous successful business. Such a record means much and tells a tale of great reliability. You make no mistake in buying Landreth's seeds—there are no better anywhere.

Garden, Flower, Grass, and Field Seeds,

Wonders of a Rat's Tail.

A rat's tail is a wonderful thing. The great naturalist Cuvier says that there are more muscles in this curious appendage than are to be found in that part of the human anatomy which is most admired for its ingenious structure—namely, the hand. To the rat, in fact, its tail serves as a sort of hand, or means of which the animal is enabled to crawl along narrow ledges or other difficult passages, using it to balance with or to gain a hold. It is prehensile, like the tails of some monkeys. By means of it the little beast can jump up heights otherwise inaccessible, employing it as a projective spring.

PRETTY ARMS SCARCE.

Hard to Find Models with Dimpled Tapering Limbs.

"I find great difficulty in getting a model with good arms," said a well-known sculptor recently. "It is astonishing how few women there are with arms that conform to the standard. A perfect arm, measured from the wrist joint to the armpit, should be large, full and well rounded. There should be a dimple at the elbow. The forearm must not be too flat, not nearly so flat as a man's, for instance. From a well-molded shoulder the whole arm should taper in long, graceful curves to a well-rounded wrist. It is better to have an arm that harmonizes, even if the parts do not conform to the generally accepted lines. For instance, a full, round upper arm, which is joined to a flat or thin forearm has a very bad effect. Perhaps it is only a little worse, however, than a graceful, well-molded forearm tacked on to a thin, scrawny upper arm. Correctness of form is not the only thing necessary for a good arm. The owner must possess the power of expression with her arms. American women are deficient in this as a rule. Those nationalities which show the most expression in their arms are the Spanish, French and Italian. The warmest admirers of Sara Bernhardt would not claim that she had beautiful arms, yet no one can say that the divine Sara ever appears ungainly in consequence. Much more lies in the faculty of arm expression than is generally supposed."—Cincinnati Enquirer.
